

ITALIAN MURDERS GALICIAN LABORER

Struck Victim With An Axe, Death being Instantaneous—Murderer is Brought to Large.

Kenna, Feb. 23.—News has been received here of a murder at Minnetonka, seventy miles east of here, of a Galician railroad track laborer by an Italian named John Berilli early this morning. The Galician, M. Pritka, by name had his back turned when the Italian struck him a treacherous blow with the back of an axe. No motive for the crime is known and it is thought probably Berilli is insane. Berilli has not yet been taken into custody but has been driven to bay, and is being watched over by two section men with rifles. The crown authorities here will rush constables to the scene on the first train this morning and in all likelihood a post mortem will take place here tomorrow as there are enough inhabitants at Minnetonka to impudently a jury.

EDMONTON MAN IS BACK FROM EAST

Has Been Granted Concessions by Government—Prospect for Coal
West of City.

After a trip of five weeks in eastern cities, during which he visited Ottawa in connection with rights to certain mining properties which he owns in the vicinity of the city, John Cameron, of Edmonton, returned on Tuesday over the G.T.P., accompanied by Miss Alice Cameron.

Mr. Cameron, who was former owner of the property of the present Twin City mines, on the south side of the river, went to Ottawa to secure certain concessions in lieu of the government's failure to deliver title to a portion of the Twin City mine property some years ago. He secured these concessions, and has obtained coal mining rights on property west of the city. He sold the Twin City mine property some years ago to the present owners.

Mr. Cameron now owns and controls large coal properties west of the city. He is about to conduct extensive prospecting operations on the property.

"We are as yet in the prospecting stage," he said to the Capital last evening, "and cannot state much about our intentions in the future. We are now conducting prospecting operations on the property at present."

Mr. Cameron had a seat in the House of Commons when Hon. Mr. Fielding made his announcement of the prospecting agreement. Speaking of that, he stated:

"The announcement came like a thunderbolt to many of the members and the spectators," he said "None of them expected that Canada would get half as much as she did from the new agreement. The agreement gives to Canada five times as much as I ever expected we would get. Altogether, I think that the agreement is a good one, and will be an immense benefit to the Dominion. The fruit growers, and the manufacturers are howling, but in my opinion they did not get touched hard enough. The cattle men of Alberta will greatly benefit by being able to ship their cattle to Chicago without duty."

Mr. Cameron also visited Toronto, and other eastern cities.

A couple of gold crosses from his teeth had been dislodged and had slipped down his throat. Yesterday blood poisoning developed from irritation of the throat and Archer died last night, one son resides in Vancouver.

BOARD OF TRADE GRANT AUTHORIZED BY COUNCIL

MAYOR CAST DECIDING VOTE AND BOARD WILL RECEIVE $3000 ASKED FOR TWO MONTHS AGO.

Strathcona, Feb. 22.—By a vote of 10 to 3 last night the city council authorized a grant to the board of trade of $3,000, the amount asked for two months ago, but which was then delayed through the deciding vote of Mayor Davies. Several members of the board of trade were on hand last night and presented some new phases of their request but they did not get the consideration which a general rehearsal of former arguments and the motion here very much in the balance apparently until the division was taken.

The one vacant chair which was there was again made the pivot of the decision in an immediate grant of $3,000. Ald. Pollock's absence made it impossible for the full committee on finance to consider the grant and Ald. Ward, Rankin and Loughlin took this chance as reason for holding a part of the proposed appropriation over until after the week. It was explained by President Douglas and other members of the board present that it was impossible for the decision of the council should not be delayed owing to the new general public utility scheme advocated by the Edmonton board of trade which will be discussed at a meeting of delegates from the boards of surrounding towns in the Capital next Thursday. As this meeting requires information as to the exact amount each town or city can contribute to the same, it was pointed out that the delegates from Strathcona should know what they were to receive from the council as a grant. Strathcona's share in the proposed committee, based on per capita assessment, would be the victor of $1500. Members of the board reminded the alderman that nearly two good months in the month of the year are gone and that it was high time a start was being made on the annual public utility work. Ald. Ward moved that it be referred to the finance committee to report at next meeting.

The Motion Committee Talk. Ald. Richards said there seemed to be too much stress placed upon the mere form of committee consideration in this instance. If the council were to be held up every time the chairman of a committee is absent there would be some work delayed constantly. He wanted the council to decide at once whether the board of trade would get the grant or not.

Mayor Davies agreed with Ald. Richards. He thought the introduction of phases into the question such as explained made it necessary for a decision to be given at the meeting. He felt that the board of trade had done excellent work and should have $3000.

Ald. Cadher moved, seconded by Ald. Richards that the board of trade be granted $3000 as requested.

Ald. Rankin was inclined to favor the general public utility scheme, although not having had an opportunity to look into it closely. He would support a resolution to make an initial grant of the $1500 necessary for Strathcona's share in this campaign but would have the remainder of the request for $3000 turned over to the finance committee for a later report. He moved this as an amendment to the motion.

Ald. Tipton agreed strongly for an immediate appropriation of $3,000. It was time all plans for civic advancement during the year were under way and he objected to the council holding off the board any longer.

53000 Perhaps Too Much. Ald. Rankin said he was not personally opposed to the board of trade but he wanted the proposed grant looked carefully into. He stated frankly that he felt that $3000 was perhaps more than Strathcona could stand in this form of advertising. Messrs Douglas and Rankin, explaining that if there was no assurance of more than $1500 as a grant it was clearly evident that all this money could not be guaranteed as their contribution to the general public utility fund.

The amendment was defeated by a vote of 4 to 3. Ald. Rankin, Ward and Loughlin registered against and Ald. Richards, Tipton, Cadher, and Rutherford voting for. The motion was carried with the same standing. In case of a tie the Mayor would doubtless have cast in favor of the grant.

Ald. Rankin took exception to the procedure in putting the motion. He held that as the identical motion was defeated in a previous meeting it could not come up again without notice. He was for the ruling of the chair. Mayor Davies ruled the motion in order, giving it as his opinion that the board might, within their privileges, appear every Tuesday night and have council vote on the matter. Although for the same purpose, this fresh motion was in no way influenced by a former decision of the council.

Cadet Shield to Trustees. Mr. Douglas of the school board drew attention to the presence of the Earl Grey Cadet Shield in the collection of the office when it was rightfully under the supervision of council. On motion of Ald. Cadher it was turned over to the trustees to use their discretion in display, giving proper assurance of safekeeping.

What of Fire Escapes. Ald. Rankin questioned Mr. Douglas with respect to the installation of fire escapes on the city schools. He hoped to see action taken toward providing these escapes. There are too many instances where children are caught helplessly in buildings and burned. The cost of proper escapes would not amount to the value of one life by any means.

Mr. Douglas said a new model escape in order for trial at the new kindergarten school and if this proves satisfactory more will be ordered. These escapes will cost about 1200 each. It would be useless to install escapes similar to some in Edmonton schools which would probably kill more children than a fire.

Favors Restricted Free Sites.

A communication from the Whitworth Block and Confectionery company, asking for a definite proposal from Strathcona as to the advantages that will be offered the firm to locate here, brought out a discussion in committee of the whole which may establish certain lines of procedure for dealing with manufacturing concerns seeking concessions. The latter stated that the factory planned would be 80 x 40 feet, three stories in brick and a full sized basement. It is proposed to employ fifty people at the outset. Information was requested for a shareholder's meeting held in Edmonton Monday last. Mr. Whitworth stated the firm was looking over Strathcona's municipality owned manufacturing sites recently and was favorably impressed with the location.

Mayor Davies said that this question of concessions brought a new difficulty before the council that should be solved by some solution calculated to form a basis for dealing with similar requests in the future. He thought it was a good business policy for the council to offer this or any other form of concessions before the intentions of that firm were. He would favor the granting of free sites for large concerns, as well as special rates for power, water, light, etc., providing the city could obtain a hard and fast guarantee that a certain plant would be established within stated time, and that the number of employees and weekly pay roll be as agreed upon. However he particularly wished to have some line of action adopted by council, acting if advisable with the board of trade in the matter. Ald. Richards took much the same stand on the subject. The letter was turned over to the industrial committee for a report.

Ald. Rankin moved and it was carried that a committee from the board of trade co-operate with the industrial committee of the city council in outlining a policy governing agreements with manufacturers.

Must Pay For Prisoner.

Magistrate Downes wrote in reference to the charge made by the R.N. W.M.P. for the maintenance of a prisoner sentenced by him to thirty days at the Fort. The Attorney-General rules that cities are responsible for the maintenance of prisoners sent to their default of the law when convicted under municipal by-law. It is recommended that these prisoners be paid in city cells and made to work out their fines. In conjunction with this advice the chief announced that it would be necessary to add to the present number of cells, these being now often overtaxed. This portion was referred to the police committee.

The Winnipeg Rubber company wrote offering to contract with the city for the disposal of the passing of the year's estimates, the price to be $1.10 per foot. Fire and light given power to place a provisional order.

A request for storage room in the agricultural park stables for 40 tons of hay was referred to the park committee.

A number of petitions for plank and concrete walks, and water and sewer lines were received and turned over to the committees. One application was for a six-foot plank walk on Highland street in River Heights. Several aldermen said a 4-foot walk should be sufficient.

At expected the parks committee submitted a report advising against the purchase of a park site at the mouth of the Wharm, as offered by reasons given were: 1. The site was too far out. 2. The city has a sufficient number of park sites for the present. 3. The price was too high, namely $11,000 for 27 acres. Report adopted.

Ald. Rankin brought up the matter of Eighth street west. Only 33 feet in width of this street belongs to the city but he understood the university governors would transfer the other half under certain conditions. Given to public works committee and solicitor, to report to council.

Rankin reported insurance policies having been taken out for 25 men employed on Mill Creek viaduct.

The engineer's drawing and plans for the opening of 1st avenue north across the C.P.R. tracks have been completed and await the return of solicitor Jamieson.

Finance committee reported payment of fees to Financial Post and Union of Canadian Municipalities.

An application for the use of the old fire hall as an automobile garage was referred to fire and light committee.

Accounts were light, $251.88 being ordered paid.

The tenders were opened for the year's coal supply and after a brief discussion the offer of the Strathcona coal was accepted as the best proposition, the fire and light and water and sewer committees being given power to go to the company in arrangement for the delivery of White Star coal. The tenders were as follows:

Great Northern Coal company of Edmonton, $2.75 per ton double screened lump; $1.35 per ton to be screened and coal. This was for F.O.B. Strathcona. Tenders called for delivery at power house.

Douglas Coal company—$3.50 per ton, mine run. No mention of certain stipulations.

On the technicality that notice of motion was not given in the city council of the resolution to suspend Commissioner Bouillon, the city solicitor finds that the commissioner was not legally discharged—that he is still commissioner.

It has also been discovered that Mr. Bouillon was not legally employed, as no notice of the motion by which he came into the city's service was given.

On this point of legality, then, the council is on firm ground, as it could not be necessary to discharge a man who was never legally in the employ of the city. And should any ratepayer feel disposed to do so, Mr. Bouillon might be sued for all the salary which he has drawn during the eight months he has been on the city payroll.

Nevertheless, just as a demonstration of their singleness of purpose, and their unwavering determination to get rid of Mr. Bouillon absolutely, it is up to the city council to hold a special meeting and again go through the motions of discharging Mr. Bouillon, taking care this time that no technicality is overlooked.

In the meantime, if Mr. Bouillon still insists in considering himself commissioner and dictator of affairs at the city hall, the only course open to the mayor is to call a policeman and have him ejected.

The Capital has always believed and argued that the city of Edmonton needs elected commissioners and the recall, dispensing with the council altogether. The present embroglio intensifies the Capital's belief, but dispenses with the argument.

The Journal and the Bulletin spend a great deal of space today in asking why Mr. Bouillon was discharged.

MR. BOUILLON IMPOSSIBLE AS COMMISSIONER

Mr. Bouillon was discharged because the city council had to discharge him or go out of business as a council.

The city council was quite within its rights when it asked Mr. Bouillon for an explanation of some of his actions, and when he refused to answer questions which the members of the council asked, and threw insult into the faces of the members, the council had to accept it as a defiance and either dispense with the services of Mr. Bouillon or resign themselves.

Mr. Bouillon, who has quarrelled with almost every man in the city's employ, became impossible as a commissioner when he undertook to defy the council elected by the ratepayers to represent them on the council board.

It is scarcely conceivable that if the city were a private company with the council as a board of directors and Mr. Bouillon as superintendent, the board of directors would continue to keep in the employ of the company a man who, when he was asked to explain his reason for certain of his actions, would walk out of the board meeting or would declare to the members of the board that he refused to answer. Yet this is what Mr. Bouillon did, and it is in the face of this most untenable position that the citizens who want him restored to office ask that he be taken back.

In support of Mr. Bouillon as commissioner the Journal is making a great deal of Mr. Bouillon's record in Seattle, pointing out that it was in a fight with Hi. Gill and the cohorts of graft, vice and licentiousness that Mr. Bouillon lost his job in Seattle.

THE JOURNAL'S UNTENABLE POSITION

The only possible interpretation to be taken of this is that the Journal intends to intimate that Mr. Bouillon is fighting forces of the same character in Edmonton as he fought in Seattle.

If this is the insinuation the Journal should not use such round-the-corner method of conveying the idea, but should come out in the open and make the declaration without equivocation.

In order to do so, however, the Journal would have to declare that Ex-Chief Lancy, for instance, who resigned because he could not stand for Bouillon's methods, was in league with vice, that Ex-Chief Davidson was a corruptionist, that Biswanger, MacNaughten and MacPherson were "out with the mitt" and that Mayor Armstrong is in the same class with Hi. Gill, the corrupt leader of a corrupt ring of unscrupulous grafters, in league with all the brutalizing influences which would debauch the community and betray the city's interests.

The Journal has a most remarkable faculty for jockeying itself into untenable positions, but this last is positively the limit.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

Note the fact that the Journal, which has supported every franchise hunter since the city was incorporated, now intimates that the discharge of Mr. Bouillon leaves the city defenseless against the franchise-hunters. Possibly the Journal is afraid that the Radical will come back and get the hinges off the city hall door—in addition to what by the Journal's help and Mr. Bouillon's careful advice it has already gotten from the city.

Some years ago he was made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France in recognition of the public services he had rendered to the French population of Quebec.

DISCUSS TREATY

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—Interest was renewed in the reciprocity debate in Commons today by the fact that the speeches made were of a character to engage the close attention of all members of the House. W. G. Kyle, Liberal member for Richmond, N. S., who moved the adjournment on Thursday last, spoke for an hour and a half in an effective debating style in support of the proposals, emphasizing more particularly how they would affect the Maritime provinces beneficially. He was interrupted frequently and the cross-fire which resulted helped to enliven the proceedings.

OPPOSE RECIPROCITY

Washington, Feb. 23.—By adroit questioning, Senator Hale, of Maine, who took a prominent role today in opposing the reciprocity agreement in the hearing given by the Senate committee on finance, but upon several statements by witnesses that President Taft, Secretary Knox and the American commissioners had failed to consult any of the interests affected by the agreement negotiated. Commissioner Bouillon spent a short time in conference with Commissioner Butchart this morning, and at the conclusion of the conference, without notice, the mayor in any manner, proceeding to the car barns, accompanied by Robert Knight, the man who has been appointed to succeed Superintendent Bissinger as street railway superintendent.

The mayor was in no way consulted by either commissioner in respect to this matter.

At the car barns Mr. Bouillon called upon Superintendent Bissinger to hand over the reins of office to the new superintendent. Superintendent Bissinger then conducted Mr. Knight through the barns, explained such matters as required explanation and retired.

Officially Mayor Armstrong has received no notification of the action of the utilities manager.

Since the motion of dismissal was carried by the council on Tuesday evening, Commissioner Bouillon has not indicated any official correspondence.

GUILTY OF THEFT.

Man Convicted of Stealing $100 and is Remanded for Sentence—Thief Occurred Year Ago.

Thomas Baker was this morning convicted in the supreme court convicted of stealing $100 from J. A. Cole. The theft occurred over a year ago in the neighborhood of Athabasca Landing. Cole had been employed by W. W. Wadell as a number of his surveying party in the north and had paid Cole off. Cole had been frozen and was unable to go to Athabasca Landing to get his cashed but a fair trade from he knew agreed to take it and cash it for him. Baker was present at the time the agreement was made and a few days later came along and told Cole that the trader was starting and that he would take his cheque. Cole took the cheque to Baker and that was the last he saw of either Baker or the money.

Before coming to this country Baker had been in the United States many under another name and is known by different names in many different parts of the country. He was remanded for sentence.

Loufellow, though no humorist, could tell a joke even when it told against himself. He has recorded a characteristic dialogue with a stranger late in black garments who accosted him one summer morning at his house door.

"Is this the house where Longfellow was born?"

"No, he was not born here."

"Did he die here?"

"No, he is not dead."

"Are you Longfellow?"

"I am."

"I thought you died two years ago."

A one-legged Welsh orator named Jones was pretty successful in his remarks in a Irishman, when the latter asked him:

"How did you come to lose your leg?"

"Well," said Jones, "on examining my pedigree and looking up my descent I found there was some Irish blood in me, and, becoming convinced that it was settled in the left leg, I had it cut off at once."

"By the powers," said Pat, "it would have been a very good thing if it had only settled in your head."

COUNCIL WILL HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

In response to a request from A. V. Bouillon, whose discharge was determined upon by the council on Tuesday evening, City Solicitor Brown yesterday afternoon presented an opinion that owing to the continuance of a delay of 1893, which requires that notice of motion must be given of any new matter to be brought up at any council meeting, and that as notice of motion was given, in respect to the dismissal of Mr. Bouillon, the action of the council was illegal. Owing to the delay this bylaw of the old town of Edmonton was never repealed, Mr. Bouillon is still technically in office. A meeting of the council was called by the mayor this morning, and the meeting will be held tomorrow for the purpose of placing the motions dismissing the public utilities commissioner in proper legal form.

Yesterday morning Mr. Bouillon gathered together such books and documents in the utilities commissioner's office as are his personal property, removing all his personal belongings from the city hall, but upon the advice of certain of his friends who were aware of the continued force of the old bylaw, he later sent in a request to Solicitor Brown for a legal opinion upon this matter. Upon obtaining assurance that he was still commissioner, he took possession of his office, and during the afternoon engaged in a conference with Commissioner Butchart. Shortly before five o'clock Mayor Armstrong and Commissioner Butchart met in the council chamber for the regular commission meeting. They had been in session for ten minutes, when Commissioner Bouillon appeared on the scene. His wisp immediately adjourned the meeting, and as he was leaving the council chamber he was addressed by the commissioner.

"I suppose you are aware that I am still in office," said Mr. Bouillon.

Mayor Armstrong remarked that the solicitor's opinion would govern the matter, and passed on.

Shortly afterwards, Commissioner Butchart and Bouillon left the city hall in company.

PARLOW CONCERT.

Miss Parlow played and it was winter; the storm king rose in the north and darkness overcast the sky; the wind whistled and the snow came scurrying in small soft flakes and covered the ground with its mantle of purity. Then the snow was melting, the wind and snow had passed away, the sun came peeping out from the clouds and overspread the earth; spring made its advent unannounced; the brook went babbling to the lakes, the prairies took on their wonted verdure and the sounds of spring mingled with the twitter of the birds was in the air.

Miss Parlow played and it was night; dark and mysterious night with its multitudinous sounds of hushed activity and as she played the sun rose brilliant over the eastern plains warming the creatures of earth to wakefulness. Chanticleer bade the world arouse itself from slumber; the rabbits went chirping on their way for early worms and the morning bird and clear was upon us. Still Miss Parlow played and the day passed, the sun sank to rest, the stars twinkled forth and the moon rose while the world of earth died down and dreamed and ceased.

In the person of Miss Parlow, Mr. Soukline is to be congratulated in having presented to Edmonton lovers of music a premiere artist. The concert which was in the large auditorium of the Methodist church was well attended and was a splendid success in every way. Mr. Karl Leitner contributed several pianoforte numbers in excellent style and Mr. Volney Mills assisted with several well rendered solos.

At the time that the octogenarian, William Edward Gladstone, was electrifying all England by the splendid energy of his Midlothian campaign, he halted one Sunday at a small village and accompanied Mrs. Gladstone to church.

After the services Mrs. Gladstone happened across a rustic laborer who expressed himself as greatly puzzled by the usual sir in that quiet neighborhood.

"Don't you know who was in church?" she asked.

"No, ma'am."

"Mr. Gladstone was in church?"

"Was he, ma'am?"

"You have heard of Mr. Gladstone?"

"No, ma'am."

Perry D. Faughton, the Harvard coach, talked at the Harvard training table the other day about umpires and referees.

"These chaps should be strict," he said, "but Hopkinson was too strict. In a very important game back in the 'nineties a dispute arose between the guards about a foul. The dispute was involved and bitter, but Hopkinson's way of settling it was simple—too simple."

"We'll have no argument," he said, "I'll just order you both off the field, and then there can't be any mistakes."

Recently now, while the name of Theodore Roosevelt was reverberating over the earth, a man was found who had never heard his name. This phenomenon is Terribus Fortazzo. He lives in Bushkill Centre, Pennsylvania. Until a few years ago he lived in darkness. Last week he applied for the New York Times, and in answer to an inquiry made this stupendous confession of ignorance.

Yet he is not unique. He has had predecessors who failed to hear the thunder when it rumbled, ignored the lightning when it flared. The story has been told of Napoleon Bonaparte that year after year after he became Emperor he determined to find out if there was anybody who had never heard of him. He began with Paris. In less than a fortnight his police had discovered a woodchopper at Montmartre, within the city limits, who knew nothing of the revolution, nor of the rise of Napoleon.

CHINESE MASONIC LODGE ORGANIZED

Choe Kung Tong Held Loud Celebration on Alexander Avenue on Saturday Night.

Toronto, Feb. 23.—At 8.30 on Saturday night the sound of heavy firing was heard from the vicinity of King street and Alexander avenue, and a heavy pungent smoke began to roll across the city toward the south. The noise resembled nothing so much as the heavy rifle volleys, repeated again and again, and rising at times to a crackling roar, which made pedestrians on the neighboring street and for blocks around stop in their stride and turn in the direction of the sound, firmly convinced that a revolution or an invasion had commenced. But it was only the members of the Choe Kung Tong, the new Chinese Masonic lodge which has been formed in the city, and which was formally opened on Saturday night, amid the rejoicings of 299 Celestials.

The fireworks display, which tore up the snow before the lodge in the King street, and shattered the gentle car of night for nearly an hour, had any Dominion day celebration, which has ever occurred in the city, except the map. From the outskirts of the crowd a very correct and realistic imitation of the famous Broken Scene from Faust could be seen. From out of the house came dark figures bearing boxes of ammunition to swell the dreadful noise, smoking punk sticks in their hands and unreluctant expressions on their lips. The entire area measured several hundred square feet in the middle of the street, and over it the fireworks burst and flamed, and darted with a noise which rattled the windows in the vicinity. Punk sticks were applied to packages which were sent soaring and whizzing into the centre, and the dark figures ran about, adding to the noise. With out the shell torn area was blackness, and a large crowd, and down the wind there rolled a dense pall of smoke.

The carnival of noise and fire continued until the last packages in the big pile of boxes brought all the way from China for the celebration, had been thrown into the centre of the road. Then the sounds died away, and the street, smoking and fire torn, was deserted. The celebrants went within, and a new noise commenced. To the uninitiated ear it sounded like a catastrophe in the kitchen, when the cook becomes angry, and throws the kettles and pans and dishes around. But in reality it was simply the orchestra at work, and after the listener became accustomed to it a faint recollection of music could be perceived.

The orchestra in question consisted of about 15 instruments, and might be classified as wood, brass, string and reed. Under the former classification came a drum, hollow within, but with a strong vein of humor, his lecture will be interesting and is away from the beaten track of lectures which will add to the enjoyment of the audience.

There was no conductor, but somehow the music had a regularity or rhythm which was hard to understand. Commencing with a crashing movement in which the wood and brass alone could be heard the music swelled to a roar which could be heard a couple of blocks away. Then this died down and the strings took over. It was a plaintive air and in a minor key which they played and the blending of the instruments was incredibly sweet. The drummer laid down his sticks and added his voice in a peculiar way to the melody. After several bars the strings ceased and the wood and brass again crashed out. And so on, ad infinitum.

After Celebration.

At the conclusion of the celebration many of the members of the lodge betook themselves to dinner. And a dinner it was. There was Li Tung Chang, extra high Chow Gai, Fao, fried with chicken; there were Ye Fao Yang Dan, which means eggs; Yan Wor Chow Mein, which being interpreted means noodles fried with brisket; Mi Lee Li Chee nuts; Pow Chang tea, and there were all the other delicacies dear to the Celestial palate. And it was all done beautifully and to the king's taste.

Following came the lodge meeting at which only the members, of course, could attend.

New Lodge.

The newly formed lodge, Choe Kung Tong, belongs to the Chinese order of Free Masons, whose origin can be traced back to 3,000 years B.C. Confucius being one of the many grand masters. It is probably one of the oldest orders in the world, comprising in its membership adherents from all over the globe. The new Winthrop lodge has already a membership of 300, with indications of speedy increase. Its grand master is Frank Yee, its secretary is Lee Neo, while George Wong, and Wong Hingins, are prominent in its organization.

The lodge room is beautifully fitted up, the Joss being particularly interesting, and the work being done with the presence of the members. It will meet once monthly for business.

Starting out with but little more than a dozen members, such fine progress has been made by the Edmonton Kennel Club that officials of the organization confidently anticipate more than 100 members before many weeks have elapsed. The big meeting held recently stirred up considerable interest and applications have been reaching Secretary V. E. Green thick and fast. The numerous applications at present being received are but another indication that dog lovers fully realize the great benefits that will accrue to them from membership in a club such as the Edmonton. Meetings at which exchanges of important pointers as to the careers of dogs and wherein matters looking to the bettering of their interests are discussed are great things for owners and the assembly next month, these meetings will be held more frequently.

Officials of the club are highly pleased at the stand taken by the city council as regards matters in which owners are particularly interested and this will have the effect of bettering conditions in this city.

Members of the Boys' Club Have Made
Excellent Showing and Have Good Marks

An honor that is the goal of every youngster at the Y.M.C.A. is to have his name placed on the Boys' Club Record Sheet in the Boys' department and the rapid way in which records are being shattered indicates that the best of them will at all times be compelled to go their best in order to retain their exalted position. A hardy meet goes by but that some mark is not broken. The present records for the boys at the association are:

THE FIRST GAME IS A TIE—SCORE 2-2

RESULT IS SATISFACTORY

(By Harold Deaton.)

The result was perfectly satisfactory to us, and holding Stettler to a tie score in the opening game would seem to assure us of the retention of the trophy, as we will be much stronger in the second game while our opponents should lose in strength. I am perfectly confident as to the final outcome of the match.

Two-two! That was the score in the opening game for the Fit Reform trophy.

Edmonton Defenders got theirs in the first half while the Stettler Challeasers acquired theirs in the second half.

It was one of the roughest games witnessed in Edmonton in years and penalties were unusually numerous on both sides.

In the first half, Stettler seemed tied to a post and Edmonton simply mowed with the Challeasers. But in the second half, the tables were turned and Stettler played the Defenders to a standstill.

Moffatt was the big noise for the visitors. He was here, there and everywhere all of the time and played like a streak of lightning, and it was he who scored both of the goals for the Challeasers.

Captain Deaton and Scotty McKeown were the bright stars for Edmonton. The former shone brilliantly in his passing and his hard checking, while the latter was particularly strong in his runs and his magnificent shooting.

It took but four and a half minutes of play in the first half for the Edmonton boys to score. The Defenders had been playing rings around the visitors and following a face off on the side of the Stettler goal, McKeown got the puck and slammed it in.

But it took Edmonton seventeen minutes to acquire the second count. Play had all been down near the Stettler nets, with some beautiful runs by McKeown and fancy passing by Deaton. Edmonton suddenly seemed to get up extraordinary steam, the puck was shot back of the goals, in a flash it was passed by Deaton to Douglass, who scored.

Everything seemed lovely and the game was hanging extremely high for Edmonton when the second half opened. Play had been on several minutes when Stettler seemed to take on a new lease of life, Moffatt seeming to play the whole game. After twelve minutes of hard play, he dashed through and on a magnificent long, open drive from the side, scored the first goal for the Challeasers.

Then followed a battle that was a plugging all the way. Moffatt was again the hero and he worked like a Trojan and had many penalties blocked by Jack Winchester.

Shot after shot were brushed aside by the old warrior in the net, but Moffatt was persistent and finally shovelled one through from the wing after seventeen minutes of play.

But for the marvellous work of Jack Winchester at goal for Edmonton, Stettler might have clinched the proceedings. Jack Winchester was slow-witted for far and he stopped at least two dozen hard ones which, if played against an ordinary man, would have been clutch scores. And Jack had his nose with him all the time and that counted a lot.

The crowd was one of the largest that has ever appeared in a game in this city. There were between twelve and fourteen hundred paid admissions more than five hundred of these being reserved seats. The crowd was a harvest was reaped. The crush last night was nothing compared to what it will be Friday night, so you had better hurry and get your tickets at Deaton's cigar store or the Lines' drug store.

Quay was the victim of a rather serious accident towards the close of the first half. In a hard rush in a corner, he was simply against the fence and suffered the dislocation of the collar bone. After a few minutes he resumed play like a gamster, but in half time an examination by a physician revealed the seriousness of the hurt and he did not come on. The equalizing things, Douglass was taken

TROPHY IS SURELY OURS

(By May Miller.)

I am perfectly contented and we already have the Fit Reform trophy boxed up and ready to take along back with us to Stettler. We lived Edmonton out in the first half and toyed with them in the second, and but for the fact that we wished the boys ourselves in reserve, could have gone out and taken a good lead.

from the line up of Stettler.

Pete Durrer refereed a good game but he seemed unusually severe on occasions. When Franks was put off the end of the first half, Captain Deaton made strong objections, with the usual result in such cases—what happened was a goal when he backs a stone wall.

Stettler in the first half seemed to attempt too many combination plays and might have fared better had they shot the puck off-center. The visitors on repeated occasions were unable to hold the rubber when it was passed to them.

Tripping was furious throughout and several times the bunch looked like a class of beginners at a dancing school on a well-waxed floor. And the shoving was hard at times and this led one spectator to remark that the game resembled a shiny match.

The rosters had a merry time of it. Edmonton was represented by the Strong-Armed Horn Band, while Stettler had along the Champion Cow Bell Brigade of the Province. The one unfortunate and tedious feature was that the conductors seemed to have them trained on but one section. But these orchestras are necessary evils and make for the life of any sport.

May Miller worked hard, but it must be stated that he did the old time in the same class as Jim Jeffries and Nataniel Nelson, the Cannot Come Back class. Miller was checked hard from the beginning and was a mark that took a crack at. But at that, Miller's energetic spirits helped the Challeasers a great deal and that amounts to something.

Although it had been announced early yesterday that Chris and Freddie McKenny would be in the line-up next night, they were not there and the only excuse given by club officials was that they had simply "chubbed" on. Why? Just because they refused, it was stated? Many said it was the fear of being professionalized that kept them off.

Edmonton had this line-up:
Goal, Winchester; point, Graben;

HE REGARDS
HARVEY AS STAR SKATER

O. K. Bush Expects Great Things From Edmonton Youngster for Next Season

O. K. Bush, at one time regarded as one of the country's greatest speed men on skates, who is promoting the skaters that are to be pulled out of this rink Saturday night, has under his wing a youngster whom he is confident will make the country sit up and take considerable notice of within a year. Earl Harvey is the young fellow and he is entered in the senior and under 20 years events for Saturday.

Harvey is a special prodigy of mine and he will stir the country when he goes back east for the professional races next year," stated Bush this morning. "He is one of the best I ever saw and is getting faster every day. I predict great things for him among the stars of the skating world and he will sweep the great American rink."

Harvey is a native of Hampton, Ont., and is about 20 years of age. He recently came to Edmonton to make his home.

WANDERERS
THE DORMAT

Varsity Cannot Fill Line Up Owing to Absence of Some Stars Playing Hockey

On account of some of the Varsity boys being away playing hockey, the fast Wanderers team will take their place in the big game Monday evening at 9 o'clock. It is sure to be a hummer as both teams are practising hard and a very fast and exciting game is sure to take place. Both these teams have some of the best men in the city on their side and the keenest of rivalry exists.

The Wanderers play a fast combination game and it will keep the Dormats hustling all the time. The Dormats will have their regular line up with the exception that Breckel will replace Tompkins on the defense, as the latter has left town. It is expected that a large crowd will turn out to see these games and the first one on Monday evening is sure to prove a dandy.

WITH THE ATHLETES
AT THE Y.M.C.A.

The Shermans and the Thibides are scheduled to play to-night in the Boys' League of Soccer Football. This will be the second match in this organization the first having resulted in a victory for the Harvard team from Yale.

The fifth of the weekly swimming contests will be pulled off Saturday morning. There will be two trials of the crawl stroke and also the plate diving.

The big thing among these "human phantoms" will take place in the contest of next week when the three minute swim will be on. When this will take the endurance of many of the youngsters, yet it is expected that a number of them will turn the trick.

JUDGMENT OF PRIVY COUNCIL IN C. P. R. CASE

In the first Appeal which is brought in the name of His Majesty the King in the right of the Province of Alberta the motion turns upon the meaning of the "sold" as used in the clause.

It seems that in September 1902 the railway company agreed to sell to the Scholast three sections of land which had been conveyed to the company by letters patent from the Crown, dated the 20th of July 1901. There were three agreements. The price of one of the sections was $1,544, the price of each of the others was $1,920. On signing the agreements, a payment of $320 was made by the purchaser in respect of each section. The remainder of the purchase money was to be paid in five equal annual instalments of five per cent. specified in the agreements. In each case time was made of the essence of the contract and each agreement contained a provision that if the purchaser should fail to make the stipulated payments, or any of them, within the times limited for payment, the company should have the right to declare the contract null and void by notice in writing to that effect, and persons served on the purchaser or mailed in a registered letter addressed to him at a post office named in the agreement.

Besides the three sums of $320 paid on the execution of the three agreements nothing was ever paid by the purchaser towards the purchase money. And on the 1st of November 1905 the company duly declared the three agreements null and void.

It is admitted that the lands have never been occupied within the meaning of Clause 16.

The contention on the part of the Appellant is that although there was no sale in fact, and although each of the three agreements for sale was duly executed and annulled in pursuance of authority contained in the agreement itself, yet the lands have never sold within the meaning of that expression in the Construction Contract.

So strange a contention does not seem to require a serious answer, but an answer may be given in the language of Ritchie, C.J., who disposed of the point when it was raised in 1891 before the Supreme court. "This must have been," said that learned judge, "a completed sale, and the property must have passed out of the Canadian Pacific railway company and vested in the purchaser before it could become liable to taxation." (Rural Municipality of Cornwallis v. Canadian Pacific Railway company, 19 S.C.R. 722.)

The action which gave rise to the second Appeal was brought by the Minister of the Public Works of the province of Alberta for the purpose of determining the date from which the period of exemption mentioned in the Construction Contract was to run. In the case of "the lands of the company in the North-West Territories" which have not been sold or occupied the period of exemption is defined as a period of 20 years after the date of the grant of the letters patent under the Great Seal. And although, of course, Crown lands may be transferred to a subject by Act of Parliament, such a transfer would not ordinarily or properly be described as a "grant from the Crown."

The contention on the part of the Respondent is that in the case of lands proposed to be taxed the period of exemption must be reckoned from the date of the letters patent conveying those lands to the company. The earliest patent in the present case is dated the 6th of April 1903.

The contention on the part of the Appellant is that the period of exemption runs not from the date of the conveyance of the lands now proposed to be taxed, but from the 18th of June 1881, the date on which the survey of these lands was approved by the Survey-General of Canada, and the lands were thus identified as part of the subsidy in land to which the company was entitled.

It was one of the conditions of the Construction Contract that grants in respect of the land subsidy should be made in alternate sections of 640 acres, extending back 21 miles each side of the railway—the company receiving the sections bearing even numbers. It was, however, provided that if any of such sections "consisted in a material degree of land not fairly fit for settlement" the company should not be bound to receive them as part of such grant. This provision led to protracted discussion and negotiation between the company and the Government. Some lands which the company at first rejected were afterwards accepted, and some that were at first accepted were rejected afterwards. The result was that in a considerable number of cases the destination of lands appropriated to the land subsidy was not definitely fixed until long after the date when the survey was approved in the Survey-General's office. As the learned Counsel for the Respondent pointed out there would be much complication and confusion if the construction contended for by the Appellant had been adopted.

In point of fact, however, whenever the question has been argued in the Canadian Courts the ordinary and proper signification of the expression "grant from the Crown" has been adopted. The leading case is the case of North Gyle v. Canadian Pacific railway 35 S. C. 550. In deference to the decision of the Supreme court of Canada in that case, formal judgments only were delivered by the trial judge, and by the learned judges in the Supreme court of Alberta, from which the second appeal is brought.

It was argued that if the expression "grant from the Crown" was to have its proper and ordinary signification it would be in the power of the Railway company, by delaying to accept Crown grants or even by simply abstaining from pressing for such grants, to defer their liability to taxation for an indefinite period. It must, however, be remembered that at the time when the Construction Contract was made, lands in the North-West Territories were the property of the Dominion, and that any delays in perfecting Crown grants would be the fault of Dominion officers. The fact that the lands would now be liable to taxation for provincial purposes, cannot alter the rights of the Railway company, nor does that fact of itself necessarily lead to delay in perfecting the grants.

The whole Contract was subjected to a very close and critical examination, but their Lordships are satisfied that there is no reason for departing from the ordinary and proper signification of the expression "grant from the Crown."

Their Lordships are therefore of opinion that in the case of lands not sold or occupied, the period of exemption from taxation mentioned in Clause 16 of the Construction Contract runs in each case from the date of the letters patent conveying the lands to the railway company.

Their Lordships will therefore humbly advise His Majesty that both Appeals should be dismissed.

In accordance with an agreement between the parties there will be no order as to the costs of the Appeals.

TENANTS MUST PAY POLL TAX, SAYS SOLICITOR

The voters' list prior to July 3 as the charter seems to provide that the assessor has all of July and August to make his list, to Sept. 15 to have his list printed and posted up and until November 5 to make a list of the applicants for amendments to the lists, and there is no provision for a revision for the court of revision to sit and finally revise the list."

In time, the tenants may obtain the franchise, but they will be compelled to pay a poll tax of $3 whether they apply for a vote or not.

Mayor Armstrong has declared himself as opposed to any revival of the poll tax, if this can be avoided, and it would appear to be possible, that an amendment to the charter more clearly defining the terms upon which a tenant's franchise may be obtained, and also abolishing the poll tax, may be obtained before the close of last year's council meeting. The members of last year's council went on record as opposed to revival of the tax, and these constitute a majority of the council of 1911.

In his letter to the mayor, Solicitor Brown fails to define the meaning of the word "tenant." He does not state whether a sub-tenant would be entitled to the vote.

"The XXI. of the charter" says Solicitor Brown "must be determined by the council on or before the 30th day of June, after which date they shall have no power to alter or amend; and once on to state that as amended shall be adopted by the council on or before the 30th day of July and shall thereupon become the revised assessment roll of the city. This roll is the basis of the voters list, as section 2 of title 2 as amended provides that the assessor shall on or before the 1st day of September in each year prepare a voters list, upon which he is first to place the names of persons assessed for $200 and upwards. This to my mind clearly contemplates that the assessor cannot begin to make up his roll until after the adoption of an assessment roll by the council; that is to say he has from the 2nd of July, until the 1st of September, to prepare the roll. Provisions are made for the amendment of this roll and appeals."

Amount to be Raised.

According to the proposal submitted by Secretary Fisher, the organizer of the campaign, and which is heartily approved by the delegates, the total to be raised for the campaign is $16,000 and this is to be raised by assessment on each board of trade according to the population of the towns represented. An estimate of the assessment necessary which was made this morning, by the delegates present, placed the figure at thirty cents per head of population for each town represented.

The delegates pledged themselves to assist in raising the fund. Every board of trade that enters the movement will be asked to contribute on the above basis. The fund will be expended in publishing an advertising circular, literature, advertising Central Alberta, and in other means of publicity. The delegates were entertained at lunch at the King Edward this noon by Secretary Fisher, and other officials of the Edmonton board.

Delegates in attendance are Mayor Davies, R. B. Douglas, J. H. McDonald, E. T. Haines, Strathmore, William Watson, Vikings, Frank Wilson, Vegrieville, C. W. Getz, S. G. Tobin, Leslie, M. F.
